

unafilm:

[company profile]

Titus Kreyenberg was an executive producer for film and television for many years before he founded his own production company unafilm in 2004.

unafilm produces feature films.
Straight forward and artistically challenging.
Fiction and documentary.
National and international.

The company's films compete in internationally acknowledged film festivals around the world - Berlinale, Cannes, Toronto, San Sebastian and Karlovy Vary among them.

The German-Swiss coproduction Colours in the Dark with Bruno Ganz was a major success in German cinemas, the German-Turkish coproduction Our Grand Despair by Seyfi Teoman premiered in competition at the Berlinale 2011. Heli by Amat Escalante was selected to the official competition in Cannes 2013 to win the award for Best Director.

In 2014 unafilm was present in Cannes' Official Selection with its coproduction The Bridges of Sarajevo. Last year, I Am Not A Witch premiered in Director's Fortnight.

The Cologne and Berlin-based unafilm is an active member of ACE, EAVE, AG DOK, the German and the European Film Academy.
